

Title : When I Think Of You

Composer : Dick Lee

Lyricist : Dick Lee

Remember when, as two old friends,
We talked away an endless sleepless night?
And then, we'd do it all again
'Cos doing what we wanted was all right
We'd take the risk in having fun
And not be scared of dying young
We were each other's heroes
We'd be partners to the end

And then,
Before we knew it time went by
And time for meeting up was hard to find
You went your way, and I went mine
On separate roads that crossed from time to time
We'd keep in touch, we wanted to,
But even that, we didn't do
And now I miss the one I knew
When I think of you

* When I think of you
I get a rush of "Good Old Days",
I feel a touch of shame, of waste
We built so much together for forever
When I think of you
I let the memories linger
When I think of you

Another stage of life went by,
And still you crossed my mind once in awhile
Then, on a street I caught your eye
You turned away from me without a smile
I didn't think I'd get a kiss,
But did it have to come to this?
I still preserve the times I miss
When I think of you

Repeat *

So, here we are, with too much pride

Each one believing he is right
But still I feel a pain inside
When I think of you

Repeat *
