

Title : When Morning Comes Around

Composer : Dick Lee

Lyricist : Dick Lee

I watch you as you're sleeping
It warms me up inside
To see you sweetly dreaming
Can almost make me cry
I want to say "I love you"
But I won't make a sound
I'll find a way to say it
When morning comes around

So many nights I lie here
Long after our goodnights
The darkness lit by the fire
Of love that burns so bright
That helps me see my darling
With flames that won't die down
Until the dawn starts glowing
When morning comes around

The reason why
I like to lie
Awake's a simple thing
It's just to steal
More time to feel
The happiness you bring

I wish that I could kiss you
But touch you with my heart
I know I'm going to miss you
Tomorrow when we part
So while you sleep. I'll love you
I hope that, you'll allow
For you must waken with my love
When morning comes around
You'll take away with you my love
When morning comes around.
