LOVER IN MOTION

When I first started to mix ethnic and pop sounds, I got laughed at. Sometimes right into my face so much so that I gave up and even quit music altogether. And then, others, maybe even the very ones who laughed at me, quickly took up the idea and became commercial success. Seven years back, when I wanted to make an ethnic-pop album with my new band, Culture Culture, I got more laughs.

This time, they laughed that some of the musicians in the band were not young enough to make a come back and not young enough to carry off an album like this.

Ah, but he who laughs last, laughs best.

Here we are on record, Culture Culture and our ethnic-pop album
