

Title : Can I Believe My Eyes?

Composer : Dick Lee

Lyricist : Dick Lee

Did I hear you say, you were coming back?
When not so long ago we kissed goodbye
And I believed you when you had to go away
Well, it took me such a long, long time
To finally lose the pain, and now you're here.
With apologies and a broken heart
I can't help feeling vaguely stunned and surprised.
I really didn't think I'd ever hear your voice.
'Specially when you upped and walked away,
And left me with no choice, and now you're here.

CHORUS

Can I believe my eyes?
I really have to try
Is it you standing there
In spite of the time gone by?
What to believe this time?
Could you have changed your mind?
Could you coming back to me.
Can I believe my eyes?

Should I take you back, but why should I give in?
Where's the anger I'm supposed to feel?
No matter what you did to me, I'm still the same.
And even though I'm trying to be strong
Some things just never change, and now you're here.

(REPEAT CHORUS)
