

Title : Cover Your Eyes

Composer : Dick Lee

Lyricist : Dick Lee

CHORUS

Cover you eyes let it be a surprise
Let me show you my world if I may
Cover your eyes and don't try to surmise
Just allow me to take you away

Are you sick of waking up to a world of hate?
Sick of the thought that it's too late?
Feeling as cornered as an innocent?
Do you feel you just cannot handle any more
Pointless beliefs that can start wars
Listen to me: stop trying to make sense.
Watcha gonna do 'bout the problems on this earth
Care all you want, for what it's worth
And then you'll end up depressed and hurt, what for?
Or you can allow me to offer you my way
Smile and enjoy each glorious day all yours
This and more.

CHORUS

Cover you eyes let it be a surprise
Let me show you my world if I may
Cover your eyes and don't try to surmise
Just allow me to take you away

Just imagine one paradise in one new world
Listen to me - it's possible
I've been and seen it with my own two eyes
Just imagine yellow and brown and black and white
Mixed in a way that seems so right
Peace that's reflected in a million smiles
When you think your life and your problems get too tough
Come to me when you've had enough
I'll show you Utopia - all love, not war
If you don't believe me then let me promise you
Joys to possess if you go through one door
Love and more.

CHORUS

Cover you eyes let it be a surprise
Let me show you my world if I may
Cover your eyes and don't try to surmise
Just allow me to take you away

INSTRUMENTAL BREAK

Watcha gonna do 'bout the problems on this earth
Care all you want, for what it's worth
And then you'll end up depressed and hurt, what for?
Or you can allow me to offer you my way
Smile and enjoy each glorious day all yours
This and more

CHORUS

Cover you eyes let it be a surprise
Let me show you my world if I may
Cover your eyes and don't try to surmise
Just allow me to take you away
