

Title : One More Night (None Of Us Will Get Much Sleep)

Composer : Dick Lee

Lyricist : Anthony Drewe

One more night till this nightmare is ended
One more night when belief is suspended
When you're mourning a loss in the family
Overall I know we'd have preferred
A nat'ral death to a horrible murder
What is worse is the claim
One of us is to blame
And we'll soon know their name
None of us will get much sleep tonight
None of us will dare turn out the light
Murder ranks quite high amongst
Those themes
Which are not conducive to sweet dreams

One more night in the midst of a scandal
One more night is the most I can handle
When you're sharing your house with
A murderer
Any sound and my pulse starts to quicken
Every turn and the plot seems to thicken
We'll retire if we must
Will we sleep?
Only just
Fearing who we can trust
None of us will sleep well in our beds
There's a nagging doubt in all our heads
Once you've tried your hand at
Killing men
Who's to say you will not strike again?

One more night under clouds of suspicion
One more night in this hateful position
An inspector in tow
There wherever we go
But just what does he know?

Does he think it could be the Granddaughter

Let us hope that the case will be
Water tight
Although we haven't guessed
Who is facing arrest
We will know who it is after
One more night
