

Title : Green – Eyed Monster

Composer : Corrinne May

Lyricist : Corrinne May

So you say, life is unfair
She's got everything you wanted and you're not even close to getting where You wish you could be
The one who gets the commendation
Love and adulation
but you're stuck here on your knees

Are you happy Green-Eyed Monster
Are you happy with your place
What's the use in being haunted
Your story for glory is right there in your face

So be glad
You're an archetype creation
You're one of a kind
Just stay on track
'cause every cross can be a blessing
All the gifts that you've been given
Close your eyes and listen
To who you're meant to be

Are you happy Green-Eyed Monster
Are you happy with your place
• What's the use in being haunted
Your story for glory
is right there in your face

Don't feed the monster
Wasting time comparing
Lose yourself despairing
I hear it taunt ya...
Hungry for a fight

Are you happy Green-Eyed Monster
Are you happy with your place
What's the use in being haunted
Your story for glory
