IVY

Suddenly I'm afraid
Filled with the dread
The dreams that I've had
Will fade
Suddenly I'm aware
Worried that what I'm seeing
Is just not there
Should I care?
Now the answers appear to be Everywhere

Suddenly I'm confused
Dreading the day
When I might be made to choose
Suddenly there's a chance
I might have been a victim
Of circumstance
All I want
Is the meaning to my whole life evidence

What's really there to find?
What if the truth's unkind?
Then all the facts I'll face
Can never be erased
Facts I can never mind
Destiny set in place.

Suddenly I'm alone
Thought all along
I'd never be on my own
Suddenly nothing's right
Should I be missing all that I left behind
Is it time
To reclaim every single thing that is mine
Now suddenly, "will it be alright?"
