

Title : If Cows Grew On Trees

Composer : Leon Lim / Sol Foo

Lyricist : Leon Lim / Sol Foo

- Ego. Now, if cows grew on trees
I wonder where I'd be?
Let the winds blow through the hills
And say "how would we know?"
- Id. I live in a place too small to be
The many things that I long to see
- Ego. So I think up silly things
To help me get along
Once in a while I write them down
And that's how I wrote this song
- Id. To be in a jug is quite a good thing
To be safe and snug and able to sing
- Both. If cows grew on trees
Would they be shady enough for me?
Or would they be poisonous fruit??
Or would they be an edible root?
- Ego. Well, you see, the need for a need
Has grown much too strong!
I've tried everything but all in vain
So still I sing this song
- Id. Will the winds blow through the hills?
And make my empty heart be still?
- ?. Off to see what I can do
About all the animals at the zoo
Do you think that they'll be fine?
Now I think they'll be a preoccupation of mine
- Id. And when cows do grow on trees
Would I still be me?
Would turnips be hatched from eggs??
Would spiders have two legs???

Ego. Do cows grow on trees?
It may be silly but I have to believe

Both. That cows grow on trees!
And they provide solace for me!!
And they are not poisonous fruits!!!
But pleasant and tasty edible roots!!!!
