

Title : Shelter (Cherry Blossom Edition)

Composer : Corrinne May

Lyricist : Corrinne May

Feels like a milestone
Being in my 30' s
Friends become mothers and fathers with little ones of their own

So and so's a doctor, a lawyer, an accountant
So and so got married
They've got a lifetime ahead
A beautiful lifetime ahead

33, the age that you died for me
Now here I am at 33
33, you crowned it with your life upon a tree
The mystery of your love for me

We could have been schoolmates studying together
We could have had tea and scones and talked about our day
You've walked this path before me leaving clues to guide me You're thirsting for someone to show a little care,
You're hidden in faces everywhere

33, the age that you died for me
Now here I am at 33
33, you crowned it with your life upon a tree
The mystery of your love for me

Everyone's got a song to sing
Doesn't matter how short or long
Just let each note ring
So long as we're in this skin

33, the age that you died for me
Now here I am at 33
33, you crowned it with your life to set me free
The mystery of your love
The mystery of your love for me
