

Title : Wake Up

Composer : Box

Lyricist : Kit Chan

Life is so simple
When you know how to be free
Shackles & chains, locks & keys
Are just part of your sick fantasy

Why do you call me a silly child
Just because you've forgotten how to play
Why do you have to shout so loud
When you have nothing to say

How much money must you make to feel like you've made it
How many hours have gone by
That you weren't living it
When love comes knocking
Will you embrace it
And when it's all over
Will you know it

Why must we all have labels
Like life forms in twisted bottles
Is it just because we're so afraid
That we'll simply evaporate

Better wake up
Before you miss it

Wake up.
