

Title : Who Are You My Country?

Composer : Phoon Yew Tien

Lyricist : Lee Tzu Pheng

Who are you my country ?
More than celebrations and tears.
More than memories put together or the summing up of years.
I see you enduring all weather, sunshine and storms at your heart, in your face the lines ever changing tell the storey where I have a part.
You are my people, my home, our lives defend and uphold;
may the love we share as a nation be our gift to the world.

As a new chapter begins from when we have come thus far, once again may it be written, you are who we are.
In you may we see our self your needs, your strengths in us, that the work for freedom and peace is mine as much as yours.
