

Title : The Lion's Song

Composer : Stephen Michael Hogan & Vernon Cornelius

Lyricist : Stephen Michael Hogan & Vernon Cornelius

When you're talking great sea captains, men who sailed the seas I'm sure you will recall the early nineteenth century Stamford Raffles set his sails for the lands of the East Indies
On his way south all the islands were like jewels in the sea

He discovered a lovely island, a land so cool and green
It became the Lion City, Singapore she came to be To this land from many nations came pilgrims from afar We made this place our homeland 'cos we found our shining star

While we worked in the sunshine we brought up our families
Our sons and our daughters were no strangers to the sea
As we went on with our living, enjoying our liberty
We laid a strong foundation for the years we're yet to see

Chorus

Oh, to be a land forever strong Let the whole world hear our Lion's song Oh, to be here forever more This our homeland, our Singapore

Then one day our Lion was Captain and he too had found a way
To build an island nation like this city of today Though our life is ever changing our fathers have shown the way
They've realized their vision, we can follow them today

Narration:

"Our own man had a dream; that dream became a reality

Let's keep our dreams alive!"
