

Title : Blue Gates

Composer : Band Of Slaves

Lyricist : Ian Xavier

Blue gates where are those blue gates open the blue gates and let me out I forgive you for the crimes you've done though I won't forget the times you know I wish that I was free it's been a long time since I'm counting the days it's been so long for as long as I can remember you took the time you left the tears and the pain now I'm hoping for the time when forever I'll fly free can't you hear me crying I am crying out to be free if you have any love for me brother you will set all free and now my friends my friends are free again free as a bird but not as free as they should be it's now in the past but the scars remain it ain't always easy living as you can see
