

Title : Lifestory

Composer : Dick Lee

Lyricist : Dick Lee

"Wake up," she said, "Look, it's a beautiful day.
Downstairs to the kitchen door and then away
Into the light
Morning moves the world on Morning passes the time
And morning is gone

Born today some years ago
And had a happy childhood
Then I fell in love and out
So nothing's changed
Lived a life that saw me grow
Into someone, I hope, is good
And yet, without a doubt
I'm still the same

CHORUS

Just my Life Story
Minute by second a story
That goes on forever
With each breath that I take
This is my Life Story
Celebrating my story
Are smiles and tears and friends
And birthday cakes

"Get up," she said, "Hurry, or you might be late."
Everyday we hurry off
To keep our dates
Time rushes by
There's no time to ask why
Still, we work to beat the clock
To never stop for goodbyes

Maybe I should stop awhile
To see the world around me
Discover how some things move on
And some things never change

Ever since I was a child
I've felt that life is funny
It will twist and turn from dusk to dawn
Yet stay the same

REPEAT CHORUS

So my Life Story
Is self-explanatory
Won't you please start from page one
And do go on
Till I am done (X3)
