

Title : There'll Be Peace Tonight

Composer : Leonard Ng

Lyricist : Leonard Ng

What do you say when he looks out the door of a house which was his but isn't there anymore?
"It's OK"? "It's alright"?
"There'll be peace tonight"?

What do you tell her who counts all her dead
on a street she once lived on but runs from instead?
"It's OK"? "It's alright"?
"No more war tonight"?

And we try not to lose any sleep
For the lives that we know we can replace
Multiplied by the things we don't see
And all the lies we can't face

They all come together in night after day
Calm all their loved ones and silently pray
"it's OK. It's alright,
No more bombs tonight.
It's so quiet tonight"
But no.
