What have I just done?
Did I just turn away?
What could I have done?
How could I face that face?
I saw in his eyes
His hopes disintegrate
But it's far too late
I can't turn around

I have to carry on
And though I may be wrong
I won't allow
Regretting now
I've waited for so long
I'll have to bear the pain
For all I stand to gain
The only way to go's
Ahead to know
My past
I must believe it so
I can get to know
At last

I've questioned myself
My actions and my words
Just thought of myself
And caused him so much hurt
If I only could
Have tried another way
Now it's far too late
I can't turn around

I have to carry on
And though I may be wrong
I won't allow
Regretting now
I've waited for so long
I'll have to bear the pain

For all I stand to gain
The only way to go's
Ahead to know
My past
I must believe it so
I can get to know
At last...
