

Title : Should I Stay...

Composer : Ken Lim

Lyricist : Ken Lim

Had a drive
Driven by your love
But when you messed around
I lost the drive I found
Thought you needed
needed someone true
But you changed your mind or had I failed you?
Wished you've been careful with my heart
But you tore it apart and broke an angel's heart
I guess what's true has an end somehow
But I am living proof of what love is about
It's hard holding you loving you losing you
It's sad to be true and be fooled by you
I don't know I wanna know
Should I stay or should I go
You played me on, played me like a clown
But I feel for you, even though I'm down
My heart is heavy, heavy like a rock
But I am so amused you're still in my thoughts
What's done is done and I'll never feel the same
But we had some good times, guess it's sad just the same
I guess the truth doesn't matter somehow
But you were living proof, of what love is about
